It was reported that the agencies ogether served 13,761 families and intogether served 13.761 families and in-dividuals, filling Atlanta's charity needs with a completeness seldom reached before. The relief societies, according to the report, served 5,964; the child caring agencies, 1.015; the character-forming agencies, 5,895, and the "individual" group of agencies, embracing the Home for Incurables and the Home for Old Women, 77. Christmas necessities made heavy demands upon the resources and mamands upon the resources and machinery of the Chest. The 35 agencies made 810 "clearances" through the Social Service Exchange, and the Christmas "clearances" in behalf of ations numbered 2,784, a total 594. This means that this number of charity cases was checked against the records of the exchange, which includes nearly 60,000 names, to prevent duplication of relief work

A Wen Is a Cyst.

What is a wen? Of what are they formed? Can they be removed successfully, or are they best left alone? Are they liable to cause cancer? (Mrs. M. B. C.)

Making the Punishment Fit the Crime Is Like Trying To Raise All Children by the Same Metho

-By Robert Quillen-The chief fault of law is that it doesn't stretch. The big problem of civilization is the "criminal class"—those rebel against authority and refuse to play the game according to established rules. Most of the laws put on the statute books are designed to hobble these rebels, make them less trouble. to hobble these rebels, make them less troublesome to society, and punish them for their sins. The laws fail of their purpose—chiefly, perhaps, because they aren't enforced, but primarily because they are faulty in design. They don't do the work they are designed to do; in some instances they make hardened criminals of men who might easily be converted into good citizens; in other instances they deal too lightly with criminals who are case-hardened enemies of society and beyond redemption. The laws are faulty in design because society has adopted the theory, that the punishment should fit the crime. Modern students of criminology, who aren't interested in revenge are convinced that the punishment must be made to fit the criminal. Suppose two individuals on the street strike acquaintances with their fists. The two "crimes" are identical. But one of the individuals is six years old and the other thirty. In this case it would be absurd to treat the offenders alike. One should be fined and other spanked. Or suppose two men take identical sums from cash drawers. One, previously honest, is hard-pressed for money to pay for an operation that will save the life of his child; the other, a ne'er-do-well, has twice been convicted of theft. The law may not distinguish one crime from the other, but common sense demands that one man be shown mercy and the other be locked up for the protection of society. "Equality before the law" is a noble-sounding phrase, and we are taught to believe that "what's fair for one is fair for another;" but we know it isn't fair to treat two people alike when they don't deserve the

The parent knows that different methods must be used in the training of different children. A harsh word is sufficient punishment for one; spanking seems inadequate to control another.

There cannot be a different set of laws for each individual; but there can be more elasticity in the application of laws, and there can be a more general use of common sense in the effort to make the punishment fit the man who needs punishment.

Buster Mott Leads T. H. S. in Victory Over Strong Vienna High Quint.

The victorious march of the "Wonder Five" of the Vienna high school was halted in a sensational manner Tuesday night on the floor of the Atlanta Athletic club when a Tech high five rose to inspired heights to send the Georgia prep school champions of 1927 down to defeat by the score of 17 to 15.

When that small score is announced it tells in eloquent fashion of the wonof tells in cloquent tashion of the won-deful defense put up by both teams. In fact, it will be many a day until a game finds any tighter guarding than was seen Tuesday night. So close was the guarding at all times that on but few occasions during the game did either team, succeed in working the ball close to the basket. As a result it was long-range work that told the story. In this depart-ment Tech high was the superior team. In Buster Mott. the Smithles had a player who was almost uncanny n the way he found the hoops. Buser was good in the opening half—he was really spectacular in the closing hapter. Stearns and White also hapter. Stearns and the Tech could be gained from this method of attack.

Seldom has a game started off with such furious defensive play as did the brush Tuesday night. For the first four and a half minutes not a goal of any kind was registered. Then Tech High brought cheers from the tremendous crowd on hand by eaging a foul that put the Smithies in the lead. It was just seven minutes after the start of the encounter when Raines, the elongated center for the Wonder Five," found the loop for the first field goal of the evening.

During the first half Tech High. led by White and Mott, ran up nine points while holding Vienna to four.

When the second half opened Vienna looked destined to overcome the Smithie lead and to end the game in the usual fashion with a Vienna victure. On the opening tipoff the News comes that Hughie Jennings lay near death Tuesday night at Scranton and the news brings keen regret to the men who knew him in his prime as a manager or player.

> The health of the famous manager has been on the decline for many years now, but his absence from baseball has caused the players and scribes to forget him as he used to be.

Any man who ever saw Hughie Jennings run his Tigers from the side lines could never forget that squatting figure as it hovered in the coaching box and plucked grass or threw pebbles.

His eccentricities on the coaching lines will remain in the memory of fans long after he has had his last time at bat in this long game, but to those who knew Hughie Jennings off the field he will be remembered as a square shooter.

One of our first memories of Hughie Jennings comes from a conversation with the manager at Navin field after a game in which he had been "razzed" unmercifully by the fans for a bit of strategy he tried to

Strangely enough the other principal in this drama was Tyrus Raymond Cobb, who is now on the verge of quitting the game that saw him under the tutelage of Jennings for many The exact nature of this play is hazy in our mind, but it was a bit of audacious base-running which failed to accom-

But he was disappointed. Hughie not only refused to be baited, but he said absolutely nothing about the matter except to smile shortly and shrug his shoulders.

After that we had occasion to see Hughie many times in similar positions and always he was the manager supreme. He frothed at the mouth and never wasted words. He developed many a great baseball player and took little credit.

If Hughie Jennings has taken his last time at hat, let this be a little tribute from a cub sports writer who saw him first in his prime. If he still

SYNOPSIS.

Esther Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to Cannes on the Riviera, is about to return directly to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job, in order to spend a little time in Cannes.

While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius, Esther treats herself to tea at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeura.

in hand, Esther heard close to her elhow the choking sound of a woman's sob. It startled her so that she very nearly looked around, curious to see the person who was so moved by the sentimental tribute to the lost Dinah. Then she was glad she had not turned for she caught these words, low, passionate, distinct.

"Arthur, if you go away from me, as you speak of doing, I think, quite likely, I shall kill myself."

Good heavens! The woman, whoever she was, said it as if she meant it. It was no joking voice, it's owner was deeply moved. She was evidently French, though her English was nearly faultless, the accent a mere flavor. Esther recalled that a man and woman had taken the table on her right and a little behind her. She longed to look at them, but controlled longed to look at them longed to look at longed to look at longed to look at longed to look at longed to l more. There was a silence that seemed interminable. Then the woman spoke again, her voice vibrant, urgent.

"You heard me! Why don't you wanswer? Why? Ah! My God, it is like beating against a stone wall!"

deed, although she was more plainly dressed than most of the women present, she rejoiced to feel she did not suffer too much by comparison. Esther was never dowdy. She was not subsamed of her well-tailored costume marron in color—which went well with her eyes and hair—nor of her little new felt hat, purchased in Paris. Her small "choker" fur was of good stone marten, even her gloves and the handkerchief peeping from her pocket had the correct touch. Trifles, perhaps, but trifles that mattered. She made "good money," and she had always found it paid to dress well and always found it paid to dress well and alvays found it paid to dress well and it matter, for six months or so'! It was surely worth a sacrifice to remain in France. Besides, she had a little saved up.

From the region of the saxophones a gorgeous baritone had soared forth. The song, one of the mournful type row emanating from Broadway, was the last word in banslity, but the honeyed voice, suave, insinuating, gave it the charm of a narcotic. Even the waiters stopped where they were and gazed as they listened, transfixed. Conversation died, the great room was stilled to drink in the notes. "For years I have been so constipated. After trying every kind of drug possible, I could only get temporary relief. I became discouraged and gave up hopes, when a friend told me to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I had read so many testimonials I had no faith. I was of the opinion testimonials were put out by friends. I will not only give you the privilege to use my name, but I will go on the witness stand and testify to my statement. I cannot express words sreat enough to meet with Kellogg's food."

An artistic arrangement of early spring flowers in the pastel shades adorned the rooms where the guests were received. In the dining room an exquisite color motif of pink and lavender was effectively carried out in the decoration. The table was early in the decoration. The table was over-laid with a handsome lace cover veil-ing pink satin and in the center a plateau of lavender sweet peas and pink roses were artistically arranged.
Out of the center arose an epergne filled with long-stemmed pink rosebuds. Silver candlesticks holding unshaded pink burning tapers added to

This statement, together with the passing of two dividends, the steel corporation report of earnings for the fourth quarter and 1927 as a whole, and the unfavorable December railroad earnings statement, caused widespread discussion of the general trade situation and outlook. Usually well informed Wall street bankers frankly admit that there has recently been increasing reports from bankers frankly admit that there has recently been increasing reports from various parts of the country regarding memployment. In such banking quarters, however, the belief was expressed today that January would mark the peak of the unemployment now being discussed.

In usually well-informed Wall street banking circles it was pointed out that overproduction in the cot-ton textile industry was responsible increasing unemployment, but that this was being offset by improve-ment in steel, automobiles, coal, boots, shees, silk. Inside information boots, shees, silk. Inside information shows that the first three weeks of January indicated a decline of 10 per cent in building contracts let throughout the country. But it was added that a large bond offerings, especially municipal, indicated that the building industry would improve and fulfill expectations. However, it was added that this is the time for seasonal dullness in general trade, and hence not the time to get "chills and fever" over the outlook. In the best banking circles here the feeling is that by the middle of February general trade will show seasonal imgeneral trade will show seasonal im-

Money available for stock exchange use began to pour into Wall street late yesterday with the opening rate for call loans 4 1-2 per cent, and the rate advanced late in the day to 5. This inflow of money, together with an oversold stock market, accounted for the advance in stock prices late yesterday in the face of the higher money rate. Improvement in stock prices continued today with marked advances and activity in Montana Power, Radio, American Can, Mack Truck, Texas Pacific, Green Cananea, Hudson and a number of other issues in which pools are working.

Two dividends were passed today, Rolls-Royce and Fan Steel Products. Officials of the company first named explained that because of a radicatinge in model production sales had dropped off during the last four months of 1927. It was stated that fixed charges had been earned but that cash was down. The company last named manufacturers radio supplies.

New York, January 31-(P)-Tradng in the bond market today embraced a long list of miscellaneous issues, but volume of business showed little expansion. With time money rates remaining unchanged, a steady under-tone was shown by the high-grade leaders generally, with firmness evident in a few government securities and a handful of railroad and public

y mortgages. ne market's ability to absorb large offerings again was exemplified oversubscriptions of the S17,000,000 American portion of the Greek stabilization and refugee loan, and the new issue of Southern Pacific 4 1-2s totaling $29,400,000.

Several usually inactive mortgages made good gains. Outstanding among these were Gould Couplers, Wheeling Steel "A" 5 1-2s and Continental Paper & Bag Mills 6 1-2s. New York Traction issues again came in for some spirited buying principally as a result of recent progress in unification plans.

Chief interest n the railway group centered in Big Four 41-2s, Rock Is-land 4s and Chesapeake Corporation 5s, but price changes were small throughout the section. A few conthroughout the section. A few convertible were active in sympathy with allied stocks, especially Brooklyn Union Gas 5 1-2s, which had a net gain of more than 5 points.

A few German obligations eased slightly simultaneous with reports of failure of negotiations for a German railway, loan of $100.000,000 to have been floated here. The loan probably been floated here. The loan probably will be obtained from German banking houses. Other foreign bonds were steady, with firm tendencies in a few groups, particularly the French.

Late buying of treasury 4s was followed by accumulation of 41.4s, both issues making moderately sharp gains.

Important Facts to Remember!

While the amount you pay with the solution does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win one of the awards, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the prize list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

Address your solution, remittances, etc., to the Contest Manager, Daily Circulation Dept., The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Observe These General Rules of the Contest!

All bona fide residents of Georgia and adjoining states may take part in this contest, except employees of The Atlanta Constitution and members of their families.

2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire, provided payment of one of the three amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award. New York, January 31.—(A)—
Sharp rallies from an opening decline were not fully maintained in the cotton market today, but the closing tone was steady, last prices showing net advances of 9 to 18 wints. May contracts sold up from 17.56 to 17.91 and closed at 17.77, compared with 16.65 at the close of the previous day. The opening was barely steady at declines of 2 to 10 points, active months showing quick net loss so of 6 to 15 points under realizing or liquidation by recent buyers, together with local and commission house selling evilonder to a fixed president Coolidge to ride the several countries in west Texas of the pink boll worm indicates plainty that the government offi-New York, January 31 .- (A)-

COTTON PRICE ADVANCES AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, January 31 .- (A)-Reports from Washington indicating anxiety concerning the pink boll worm infestation in Texas, combined with a fair trade demand, sent the price of cotton upward here today, the general market closing 11 to 24 points up. Liverpool was 1 penny point lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 1 to 4 points. March declined 9 points in the early trading, but later went up to 17.52, 23 points up, and closed at 17.39, 11 points advance for the day.

After the start May dropped to 17.21 and July to 17.16, 5 to 7 points under yesterday's close. The market soon raillied on trade buying and later on recovering due to the boll weevil scare and May jumped to 17.52 and July to 17.51.

New Orleans, January 31.—The special appropriation of $400,000 asked by President Coolidge to rid the several countries in west Texas of the pink boll worm indicates plainly that the government officials regard the pink peat as a great menace, cotton men believe. It is believed that steps taken at once to fight the peat before the new brood of moins emerge will rid the affected area of the menace before it becomes necessary to quarantine the infected countries.

Mr. E. F. Albee, President of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation, has summarized in part his letter regarding the Corporation as follows. Copies of this letter may be had from the undersigned upon request:

'The proposed consolidation of the Keith-Albee and the "The proposed consolidation of the Keith-Albee and the Orpheum interests will unite the two leading factors which have developed vaudeville from its beginning, each in a distinct territory. In almost all of the houses programs comprising both vaudeville and motion pictures are now presented. The uniting of these two circuits will form a great chain of theatres, in both the United States and Canada, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coasts, and will provide a single vaudeville booking office for these as well as independently owned theatres.

The theatres in which the two circuits have an interest, can play to over 1,000,000 persons daily. The two booking agencies furnish the vaudeville entertainment for a majority of the higher class vaudeville theatres in the United States and Canada.

ORGANIZATION

The Keith-Albee-Orpheum Corporation has been recently incorporated to acquire all of the outstanding stock of the B. F. Keith Corporation, Greater New York Vaudeville Theatres Corporation, Greater New York Vaudeville Theatres Corporation and the Vaudeville Collection Agency, at least 80% of each class of stock of the B. F. Keith-Albee Vaudeville Exchange (which four Corporations are referred to as the Keith Companies), and at least 80% of the common stock of the Orpheum Circuit Inc.

THE KEITH & ORPHEUM COMPANIES

The Keith Circuit, founded in 1883 with one theatre, now numbers 46 theatres owned or leased by wholly-owned subsidiaries, of which 18 are owned in fee (includ-ing threquinder construction) and 28 are leased (including four under construction), and in addition 115 theatres owned, leased or operated by companies in which the B. E. Keith Corporation owns varying amounts of stock In-Keith Corporation owns varying amounts of stock. In 19 of the latter theatres it has a stock interest of or more. This chain of theatres extends from Eastern Canada south as far as Washington, D. C., and Louisville, and west to Detroit and Indianapolis.

Among the more important theatres owned in fee by wholly-owned subsidiaries are the following, with their respective seating capacities: Fordham (2391), Coliseum (3107), and Franklin (2951), in New York; Albee (3241) and Prospect (2433), in Brooklyn; Keith-Albee (1935) in Washington; and Keith's (2600) in Ottawa.

The fifty theatres owned or leased by the subsidiary and affiliated companies of Orpheum Circuit Inc. have a total seating capacity of approximately 112,000. Among these are fourteen theatres which are owned in fee, and five theatres owned on leased land, by wholly-owned subsidiary companies. These include the Golden Gate (2800) at San Francisco, Hillstreet (3000) at Los Angeles, New Orpheum (2600) at Seattle. Mainatreet (3000) at Kansas City. pheum (2600) at Seattle, Mainstreet (3000) at Kansas City, Hennepin-Orpheum (3000) at Minneapolis, and New Orpheum (3000) at Omaha.

Among the thirty-one theatres under lease by subsidiary Among the thirty-one theatres under lease by subsidiary or affiliated companies of the Orpheum Circuit Inc. are the following leased by wholly-owned subsidiaries, each of which has between 2350 and 3200 seats: the New Palace, State-Lake and Belmont in Chicago, the Palace and the Granada in South Bend, and the New Orpheum theatres in Los Angeles, Springfield, Ill., Madison, Sioux City, and Vancouver, B. 4.1 While final audited figures are not yet available, the management estimates that the combined earnings for the calendar year 1927, computed in the same manner as the earnings above, were approximately $2,600,000, or 3.7 times the preferred dividend requirement. The decrease in earnings in 1927 from the earnings of 1926 is attributable to certain abnormal conditions that obtained during the last year, which are not expected to continue or recur.

With the consolidation of the two groups of companies, and the many advantages and savings expected to result therefrom, the operation of a larger number of the thea-tres of the Circuit with a policy of combining vaudeville and motion pictures at popular prices, the carrying out of other plans and policies designed to meet new developments in the business, and the additional profits anticipated from pictures and policies designed to meet new developments in the business, and the additional profits anticipated from pictures and designed the profit and the pated from nine new theatres opened during the last half of 1927, and nine new theatres expected to be completed during the present year, there is every reason to believe that the garnings of the Keith-Albee-Orpheum Companies will show a substantial increase in this and following years. The new Corporation's consolidated balance sheet as of August 31, 1927, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., after giving effect to the transactions therein referred to, shows net assets of $31,859,236 or over $318 per share of Convertible Preferred Stock."

*It is anticipated that all or substantially all of the common stock of Orpheum Circuit Inc. now outstanding will be acquired by the new Corporation and all calculations in this advertisement have been based upon the assumption that the acquisition of the entire outstanding common stock will be effected. In the event that less than the entire common stock of Orpheum Circuit Inc., now outstanding is acquired by the new Corporation, of outstanding Common Stock of the new Corporation, of outstanding Common Stock of the new Corporation will be reduced accordingly.

Application will be made to list both the Preferred and Common Stocks on the New York Stock Exchange.

PRICES FOR CORN

Considerable notice was taken, of the fact that low grades of cash corn today were commanding better prices than yesterday, the better grades meanwhile being steady to 1c up. Throughout the day, nevertheless, the corn market as a whole had choppy trend. The North American available supply of corn increased 756,000 hushels for the week, and is now 30.

able supply of corn increased 100,000 bushels for the week, and is now 30,078,000 bushels against 40,616,000 bushels last year.

Wheat was governed largely by weakness of Liverpool quotations and by word of increased selling pressure both from Argentina and Canada.

Oats showed firmness, helped by upturns in the corn market.

Provisions advanced with hogs, but not selling on the part of cash in selling on the part of cash in-

The corn in Chicago quoted in some cases today at 4c a bushel advance, prices for future deliveries averaged higher. The corn is export basis at the Guif of Mexico, however, was 1-2c lower at 61-4c over Chicago May. Arrivals of corn were of much less volume than the day previous.

Closing quotations on future deliveries were nervous at yesterday's fing is to 3-Sc higher, wheat unchanged to 1-2c lower, oat 3-St ol 1-2c up, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 2c.

It was only in the last part of the last export demand for corn appeared to cut much figure. However, if finally developed that a fair amount of business with Europe had been done. The principal uplifting factor was falling-off in receipts, especially at ar and 50 cars.

Or are you going along, taking a blind chance on the good credit standing of your customers, just because they've always been able to pay their bills in the past?

It's true that you expect a certain number of your customers to be among the thousands of firms that fail every year. You set aside a percentage of your profits to take care of these bad debt losses.

But what would happen if a dozen more than the expected number fail—especially a dozen of your best customers?

LIVINGSTON & CO. New York, January 31.—The expected irgular trend developed in the afternoon ter a fairly strong mornnig. Several oll stocks like Colorado Fuel, advanced the afternoon but the majority of them et enough selling to cause closing prices point or so below the best levels of edgy.

Call money was reduced to 4 1.2 per cent reflecting diminishing demand for funds for month-end requirements.

Pure oils reduction of the dividend caused a sharp reaction in the stock and possibly was a factor in the stock and possibly was a factor in the stock and possibly was a factor in the selling in the rest of the market.

Some metal stocks were a little higher on prospects of better metal prices.

Equipment stocks, particularly the locomotives, were in better demand.

Tho market as a whole, however, shows no change and for the fime being we expect continuance of the irregularity.

Bank of Atlanta reported Tuesday.

Also important increases in crop values in 1927 were noted by the bank, particularly in Georgia, which showed an increase of $39,000,000 over the previous year, Mississippi showed a rise of $37,000,000, Louisiana, $4,800,000.

Tho market as a whole, however, shows no change and for the fime being we expect continuance of the irregularity.

Cotton Letters.

LIVINGSTON & CO. The action of the market today suggests that stale long lines have been well liquidated and that it had become oversold speculatively. A much better feeling has been in evidence which has been reflected in the further recovery. The south apparently "bought on balance instead of selling and there was little pressure from the bear element. In fact, some of the more rabid beers are reported to have turned bullish or disposed to cover pending further developments. New Orleans wired that the anticipated weakness in spots had not materialized and that banks were standing behind holders. Continued need of rain in west Texas and the govern shad not materialized and that banks were standing behind holders. Continued need of rain in west Texas and the govern standing behind holders. Continued need of rain in west Texas and the govern standing behind holders. Continued need of rain in west Texas and the govern standing behind holders. Continued need of rain in west Texas and the govern standing behind holders at least 10 degrees colder have still permitted sufficiently large survival to cause serious damage the following year, have promoted the improved feeling.

Burlow Revenues in 1926, and while commercial failures were greater in number than in the previous December, total liabilities were less sthan half as much.

A similar situation was noted with regard to loans and discounts by reporting member tanks on the second reporting date in January. Loans had declined from the report of five weeks total loans and investments, consequently were materially greater than a year ago.

Building permits issued in December at 20 cities in the district showed declines compared with November and December a year ago, as did contract awards.

back to Atlanta by police detectives. This negro, who was indicted Tuesday by the Fulton grand jury under the name of Will McCoy as an alleged participant in the holdup in which Cleveland was slain, was re-ported to have been located in Gwinnett county. A negro automobile driver informed police that a negro answering the description of the wanted man had accompanied him to Gwinnett county in his automobile, and on the way beasted of his part in holdup and slaying, detectives

The negro automobile driver became scared of his companion, and managed to ditch him along the road. He then informed police, and a veteran bloodhound was sent to pick up the trail at the spot where the sus-pect was left. The bloodhounds eas-ily found the trail and followed it for a long distance through a tortuous maze of woods. Finally, the blood-hound began to show the effects of the long, winding trail and stopped the long, winding trail and stopped every few minutes to rest. At last, wearied to the point of exhaustion by the lengthy pursuit, the bloodhound gave up the ghost, and laid down in his tracks, unable to move a step further.

An emergency call was sent to At-lanta, and three bloodhounds were rushed to Gwinnett county from Bellwood camp. These bloodhounds picked up where the veteran left off and after following the trail for 15 miles through in an effort to extinguish the child's blazing garments.

In addition to his parents, the child is survived by a sister, Twila Mae Beech; a brother, Roland Beech, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Beech, of Maywood, Ill., and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Gray, of Dayton, Ohio. Harry G. Poole is in charge of arrangements.
